

Further to my previous email on the extension of the temporary ban on all passenger flights to Thailand until 18 April 2020, I wish to inform you that the said ban has been, once again, extended until 30 April 2020 at 23.59 hrs. (Thailand's local time).

More information can be found here: <https://www.caat.or.th/th/archives/49587>

Thus far, there is no plan to organise special repatriation flights from Vienna to Bangkok, but this may change depending on the situation and the number of Thai people who have urgent needs to return to Thailand (please kindly note that those Thai nationals who do not have urgent needs to return to Thailand, i.e. those with permanent residence / long-term visas, are encouraged to postpone their travel until the situation gets better).

The Embassy has set up 3 new numbers specifically to receive inquiries during the COVID-19 crisis: +43 664 9944 5916 / +43 664 9944 5918 / +43 664 9915 3767. These lines are open Mon-Fri 10.00-16.00 hrs. It would be much appreciated if any Thais needing assistance are guided to contact the Embassy via these numbers.
